WELCOME TO HUMBOLDT COUNTY

Humboldt County is known for its mild year-round climate, 150 miles of coastline, tall redwood trees, six wild rivers offering swimming, rafting and some of the best trout and salmon fishing in the world, as well as its nearly 4,000,000 acres of mountains and coastline reserved in State and National Parks.

The natural beauty of Humboldt County is awesome and is enhanced by the ease of living here. Most activity focuses around the Humboldt Bay, which is the central point of much of Humboldt's industrial, commercial and governmental activities. Humboldt County has seven incorporated cities. We have highlighted six major communities on the following pages.

Humboldt's recreational values do not outweigh its rich social life. Elegant dining, theatre, comedy, first run films, ballet, opera, headline acts, pop and rock groups, ethnic and folk music and even top-notch big band shows can all be found here on a regular basis. Further enrichment can be found at Humboldt State University or College of the Redwoods.

All major services are bountiful here. Mass transit, 9 full-service hospitals, 3 local TV stations and 3 cable services, a major daily newspaper and much more.

Population	109,100

NORTHERN HUMBOLDT

TRINIDAD

The coastal beauty of Trinidad has been likened to the Maine coastline. Trinidad is unique in its coastal splendor. Let's start with Trinidad Bay with its protected harbor filled with fishing, sport and party boats. The picturesque lighthouse overlooks the Bay along with Trinidad's 300 or so residents.

Trinidad was incorporated in 1850 and was the focal point of travel and shipping until the emphasis shifted to Humboldt Bay, leaving the community to its fishing and tourism. It's no wonder tourism abounds in and around Trinidad.

For rock hounds and beachcombers there is Moonstone, Clam, Luffenholtz and Agate beaches. For forest lovers and backpackers there is Patrick's Point State Park, Prairie Creek State Park with its 200 protected Roosevelt Elk and Redwood National Park, home of the world's tallest living tree.

For those of you who would like to marvel at all this beauty from your living room window and may want to venture downtown for a good seafood dinner, Trinidad is for you

MCKINLEYVILLE

McKinleyville boasts of being Humboldt County's largest unincorporated township. Jow Dow was one of the earliest settlers starting his ranch in 1861. His township, named Dows Prairie took the new name of Minorsville in 1898 when Isaac Minor began erecting a general store, post office and other buildings on what is now Central Avenue. After the assassination of President McKinley in 1901, Minor changed the name to McKinleyville.

McKinleyville is best known for its friendly easy going nature, its miles of beautiful beaches, its world's largest totem pole, its western styled commercial sections, its acres of flower farms and its newly enhanced jet airport.

Odd as it might seem, the "Eureka/Arcata" airport is located in north McKinleyville. The airport is Humboldt's largest and is proud of its newly constructed terminal and parking facilities. United Air Express and Horizon Air provide full daily commuter service to major cities throughout northern California and Oregon. Private Charters and private plane sales and service are also available

CENTRAL HUMBOLDT

ARCATA

Arcata is an Indian word meaning "Around The Bay", and the city hugs the northeastern rim of Humboldt Bay. The city was incorporated in 1850 and was an early mining supply center known as "Union".

Rising from Arcata's east is the redwood forest hillside and Humboldt State University. Humboldt State is part of the California State University system and offers 62 degree programs including its well recognized Wild Life Management, Forestry and Marine Biology Departments.

As with most of Humboldt County's communities, Arcata is rich in Victorian architecture and is self-sufficient in its community services. Arcata is very proud of its community redevelopment programs, its transit systems, its beautiful downtown plaza and most of all its community spirit.

Arcata's population base and size is second only to Eureka and affords a wide variety of housing to fit anyone's taste.

EUREKA

Eureka is Humboldt County's industrial, financial and political center. It also serves as a regional center for the Pacific Northwest of California. Most state and federal offices are located in this county seat.

Eureka was founded in 1850 and incorporated in 1856. By 1885 Eureka was a city of 7,000 and fast becoming a major seaport for the Northwest. Timber, fishing vessels and commercial trade all passed through Eureka's harbor and California's second largest bay. Most early development was centralized along Eureka's waterfront in what is now known as "Old Town Eureka".

Although commerce, government, fishing and timber related industries still dominate Eureka's employment picture, the fastest growing industry is tourism. Beyond the natural splendor surrounding Eureka, tourists have been attracted to Eureka's restored Old Town, its new marina, its proliferation of Victorian homes and Bed and Breakfast Inns. Eureka's success in attracting tourism has only begun.

SOUTH CENTRAL HUMBOLDT

FORTUNA

Fortuna was first established in 1875. Originally, Fortuna was known as "Springville" due to the numerous springs on the hills. Located in the very center of Humboldt County it is aptly known at the "Hub of the Redwood Empire".

Fortuna's climate is moderate, and most agree, probably the best near the ocean. Farm, ranch and timberlands surround this community nestled in the Eel River Valley. The Eel River is a wild and scenic river and along with its tributaries, offers some the finest year-round fishing anywhere.

Fortuna is a community of 7,900 serving an area of approximately 30,000. It has all modern services including a general hospital, a convalescent hospital, 6 financial institutions, a well-coordinated school system, downtown shopping, as well as a regional shopping center.

Fortuna is 20 minutes south of Eureka, affords good real estate values and many of the best rural and picturesque home settings in Humboldt County.

FERNDALE

Ferndale is situated within some of the best dairy land in northern California and is the westernmost city in the lower 48 states. Ferndale is also known as the "Cream City" and the "Victorian Village". Ferndale is the original name applied to the farm, which became the community, founded by Seth Louis Shaw in the spring of 1852.

Ferndale is a town of Victorian yesterday. A town of magnificent Victorian homes, of shopkeepers in its quaint downtown, of cowboys and farm families and of artists and craftsmen. Needless to say, Ferndale has much to offer and visitors enjoy its many Bed and Breakfast Inns, shops, restaurants and historic charm.

Ferndale holds its annual Art Festival each May which is capped off by the nationally known and televised Kinetic Sculpture Race.

Ferndale is a step back in time but does boast of its modern community services and plays host to Humboldt County's annual County Fair and Horse Races

RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

There is a wide variety of recreational activities available in Humboldt and surrounding counties. The coastal area offers beautiful rugged beaches for beach combing, dune buggy riding, fishing and camping. Many state and local parks offer camping, swimming, picnicking, hiking, and sightseeing. There are many playgrounds in the area and an abundance of tennis courts, baseball diamonds, and football fields. A wide variety of game makes hunting excellent, and both salt and fresh water fishing are outstanding. In addition, there are golf courses, bowling alleys, indoor pools, movie theatres, and numerous other recreational facilities. Air Station Humboldt Bay and Station Humboldt Bay both have a tennis court and a baseball diamond. A small inventory of camping, fishing and assorted sporting equipment is available through special services.

HOUSING

The Air Station and Station Humboldt Bay have barracks facilities for single enlisted personnel. A limited amount of single personnel are authorized SEPRATS and BAQ to assist with living expenses in the private sector. You must receive a release from mandatory assignment to government owned housing prior to living on the local economy. Reporting members must carry with them a complete set of uniforms and flight gear (if applicable) and sufficient funds to defray the cost of temporary private rentals if government owned housing is not readily available. Private rentals usually run from $450 to $650 per month for a two bedroom unfurnished house or apartment. Three bedroom houses generally run from $650 to $950 per month. There is a limited amount of apartment complexes and trailer parks. In general, the rental market is limited and moderately expensive. Adequate rental housing during the school year is often scarce due to the high student population at the local college and university, especially in the Arcata area.

GOVERNMENT HOUSING

There are 117 units of government owned quarters in the Humboldt Bay area. Sixty-two of these units are modern spacious duplexes, triplexes, and fourplexes, all located in Eureka. There are 3 units located 6 miles north of the Air Station in Trinidad. All houses are constructed in a townhouse configuration with garages, patios, and fenced yards. Two, three, and four bedroom houses are available. Hookups are available for washers and dryers. All units are unfurnished. The major housing complex in Eureka is located 18 miles south of the Air Station, but is convenient to schools, shopping, and medical facilities. Fifty-two units are located in the town of Ferndale located 20 minutes south of Eureka. Two and four bedroom duplexes are available along with some three and four bedroom single story houses. All personnel in the paygrades E-1 and above with dependents are eligible to occupy government owned housing. The Group Housing Officer or the Group Housing Petty Officer should be contacted as early as practical to be placed on the waiting list. Their telephone number is 707-839-6118 or 707-839-6119.

GROUP HUMBOLDT BAY

The mission of U.S. Coast Guard Group Humboldt Bay is to operate shore stations, floating units, and aircraft in support of Coast Guard missions and serve as an integral part of the operating forces of the Eleventh Coast Guard District.

The Group spans more than 250 miles of California coastline, from Point Arena in the south, northward to the Oregon border. It is comprised of Air Station Humboldt Bay, Station Humboldt Bay, USCGC BARRACUDA, Station Noyo River, and USCGC DORADO. The Group has a complement of 3 officers and 62 enlisted active and reserve personnel assigned, encompassing virtually all rates.

AIR STATION HUMBOLDT BAY

The Group/Air Station has a complement of 14 officers and 56 enlisted personnel. These personnel maintain and operate three assigned HH65A helicopters. Although the average annual 100 SAR cases is low compared to many air stations, most cases are dramatic and lifesaving in nature due to the rough seas and generally poor weather conditions prevalent on the northern California coast. The Air Station also provides MEDEVAC support for injured personnel in the mountains surrounding the Group area. The Air Station's primary mission is search and rescue. Secondary missions include aerial support for aids to navigation, law enforcement, and marine environmental protection.

STATION HUMBOLDT BAY

The primary mission of Station Humboldt Bay is search and rescue with additional responsibilities in law enforcement and boating safety. The Station answers over 150 assistance cases yearly in its area of responsibility, which spans over 50 miles of coastline and Humboldt Bay.

The Station is located on the ocean side of Humboldt Bay directly west of Eureka. By road it is 7 miles from Eureka. It has a complement of 34 enlisted active and reserve personnel with a Senior Chief Boatswains Mate as Officer in Charge. The Station has two 47 foot MLBs and other small boats. All married personnel must contact the Group Housing Officer for family housing information. The government housing area is approximately 10 miles from the Station.

STATION NOYO RIVER

The primary mission of the Station Noyo River is search and rescue with additional responsibilities in law enforcement. The station has an Officer in Charge with a total complement of 23 enlisted personnel. Two 47 foot MLB'S are located at the Noyo River boat basin in Fort Bragg, approximately 100 miles south of Eureka. Fort Bragg is a small fishing and lumber town with all necessary shopping, medical, and educational facilities. Due to the narrow mountainous roads, access from Eureka requires approximately 3 to 4 hours driving time. Housing is limited and expensive. Married personnel reside in government owned houses and government leases in Fort Bragg. Personnel requiring family housing should contact the Station Noyo River Housing Petty Officer.

USCGC BARRACUDA

BARRACUDA is an 87-foot "Predator class" patrol boat with the primary missions of search and rescue, and law enforcement. The cutter's complement is 10 enlisted personnel. BARRACUDA ties up at the Woodley Island Marina, adjacent to downtown Eureka. Government housing is approximately five miles from the moorings.

USCGC DORADO

DORADO is an 87-foot "Predator class" patrol boat with the primary missions of search and rescue, and law enforcement. The cutter's complement is one officer and 9 enlisted personnel. The DORADO is homeported in Crescent City, approximately 75 miles north of Eureka. Crescent City is a small lumber and fishing town with necessary though limited shopping, housing, medical, and educational facilities. Government leased housing may be available to qualified members, otherwise members reside aboard the cutter or rent quarters ashore. Crescent City is accessible by highway 101 and is an hour and a half drive from Eureka. DORADO is berthed in a protected harbor 35 miles south of the Oregon border and is the northern most unit of the Group.

The two cutters assigned to the Group provide patrol coverage for over 250 miles of coastline from Point Arena in the south to the Oregon border. They respond to over 250 assistance cases per year. Specific questions concerning local associated communities should be directed to the respective commanding officers at Fort Bragg and Crescent City. All assistance concerning pay, administration, and housing should be directed to appropriate personnel at the Group Office.

LOCATION

Air Station Humboldt Bay and the Group Office are located at the Arcata/Eureka Airport in McKinleyville. The cities of Arcata and Eureka lie within seven miles of each other on the north and south ends of Humboldt Bay respectively. The cities are located about 250 miles north of San Francisco and about 80 miles south of the Oregon border. The approximate population of Eureka is 25,000 and Arcata is 12,000. The Eureka/Arcata area represents the largest population concentration on the California coast north of San Francisco.

CLIMATE

The Eureka/Arcata area enjoys a moderate climate, which is fairly uniform, all year with an average temperature of 51 degrees. Summer temperatures are in the 55-65 degree range. The winters are mild and virtually free of ice and snow. The average rainfall is 40 inches which 75% falls from November to March. The summer months are generally foggy, with sunny warm weather a few miles inland.

EDUCATION

The area has an excellent education system. It consists of a two year community college (College of the Redwoods) in Eureka and a four-year university (Humboldt State) in Arcata. Five high schools and several junior high and elementary schools are in McKinleyville, Arcata, Eureka and Ferndale collectively. The elementary schools include kindergarten. Each city has a well-stocked public library.

SHOPPING FACILITIES

The shopping facilities of the area are adequate. There are many large grocery stores, several department stores, a large mall, several small malls, and various other types of businesses to suit most consumers. In addition, there is a small Coast Guard Exchange located in the Eureka Coast Guard housing area. The Exchange has a limited supply of food and other common use items.

MEDICAL FACILITIES

The area is served by five hospitals and several clinics and medical groups, all of which are within several miles of the housing area in Eureka and Ferndale. Professional services include approximately 80 physicians and surgeons, including specialists in most fields of medicine. Physical therapists, obstetricians, and pediatricians are also available. There are numerous dentists and dental clinics located in the area.

There is a Medical Clinic and pharmacy located at the Group with a permanently assigned flight surgeon and Nurse Practitioner. We offer such services as Immunizations, physical exams, well child exams and assorted other services at no cost to eligible beneficiaries. Since TRICARE Prime is not an option in this area and due to the high cost of Medical care in this area, it is highly recommended that all arriving personnel obtain a supplemental insurance.

The purpose of a supplemental insurance to reimburse patients for the civilian medical care bills they must pay after TRICARE pays. Enclosed are numerous companies that offer supplemental policies and a series of questions that you should ask the companies when shopping for a supplemental insurance.

CALIFORNIA GUN LAWS

The State of California has recently passed a total ban on privately owned "Assault" type weapons. It is illegal to carry or transport "Assault weapons" of any kind into the state. These weapons may not be stored in the Group Armory either. For more info contact the Group Gunner's Mate at (707) 839-6106.
